My dearest Marna

Words are made that say what I want to say, but it's big anyhow - Our friendship has been a friendship never to be forgotten. I know it, never forget you Marna and I hope it's know you as long as you both live.

How could I ever think of forgetting you - You so darn sweet and I've had so much fun these last three years and I want the fun to continue for ages to come.

I've had so much fun together I can't begin to name them all - June 14, our birthday day was fun but kinda expensive fun & it won't happen again but I'm not really sorry.

I have no squabbles, yes, but who doesn't? I've never had a real bad one & couldn't bear the thought of staying mad at you.

I never loved anyone like I love you. If I had to break up with anyone, I'd break up with you. I wouldn't hesitate to do it - You mean more to me than anyone.

I've been pretty dirty to you, but I've made up for it I hope - I wasn't very nice about Don but he's a jerk & I'm sorry for it now. I'd like to try to get Johnny Brady, even if I had to.

IN MEMORIAM

I wouldn't have done me any good - When you've got a man hooked he stays that way.

KEITH STILLWAGON

There, both of us aren't spoiled, we're stuck and we're pretty stubborn too. But we like us, don't we.

I wish you weren't going away to Colorado. I miss you more than you know - I've got Mito & Mary but they don't half way compare to you - I like them both but I just haven't got much love left from you.

You think of me thinking of you when you back there having a good time.

Wynken, Blynken, and Nod one night
Sailed off in a wooden shoe. . . ."

Recollections of such fanciful rhymes are the pleasurable reminiscences of early youth. But our childhood kingdoms of fancy tend to vanish into thin air as we grow into a world of reality.

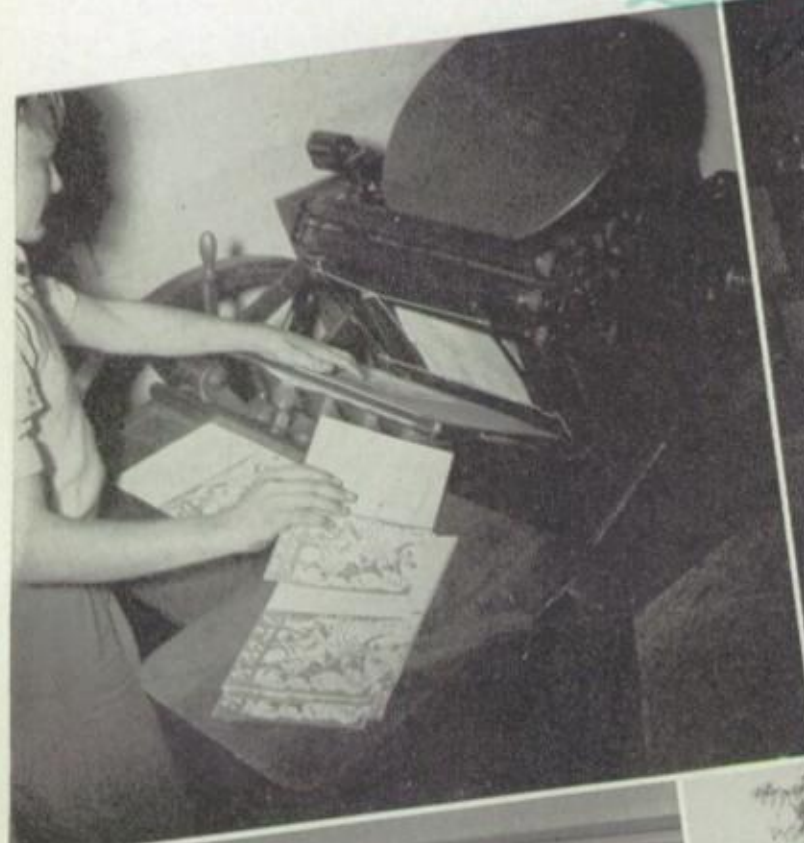

For a few brief moments let us turn back the hands of the clock to that time when we were just beginning to read and write; to a time of youthful pleasures, when every tree was a sugar-plum bush, and every house was made of peppermint.

Let us live again the carefree days of childhood. Turn the pages to joyous school days and to recollections of youthful fancies.

And if ever there is anything I can do to help you get it you know I would be glad to do any thing for you. Sorry you ahead of me but I'll stop for awhile + think of some more to say.

The personnel of the Alhambra School Board is composed of a small elective body of public spirited citizens who are vitally interested in educational problems and community progress.

The Board members have generously given their time and efforts in contributing to the welfare of our school. Under the wise guidance and intelligent leadership of Dr. Broadwell, the Board has operated smoothly and efficiently.

To Mrs. Baldwin, who retired this year from the School Board, after seven years of service, we extend greetings and best wishes. Mrs. Baldwin has long been devoted to the education of boys and girls.

MR. BETTINGER

To the thoughtful and vigilant leadership of Mr. Bettinger we are indebted for many of the progressive steps that have been taken to improve the Alhambra educational system. Under his administration a building program to provide adequate housing facilities to cope with the rapid growth of the district has been initiated, and curricular innovations throughout the entire school organization have been inaugurated to insure maximum efficiency in community service.

MR. STOKESBARY

Mr. Stokesbary, Assistant Superintendent, has a great responsibility in directing many of the general school procedures.

As Chairman of the Coordinating Curriculum Council, he has organized several committees that are busily engaged in revising school curricula and courses of study.

MR. WHITE

The pleasant, smiling school official whom we may meet anywhere on the campus is our own principal, Mr. White. Aside from the regular routine of administrative responsibilities, he is keenly interested in all school activities and is genuinely concerned in the welfare of all the students.

We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. White for his guidance and friendly counsel throughout our high school years, and may we continue to enjoy his friendship long after we have said farewell to Mark Keppel.

Mr. Casey
Mrs. Hitchcock

Mr. Rawson

The splendid cooperation existing between the parents and the school is due to the efforts of Mr. Casey, supervisor of the Attendance Office. His understanding of student problems has won for him the admiration and friendship of all who know him.

The counseling and guidance service for lower division students is largely in the hands of Mrs. Hitchcock. She also handles a great deal of the master testing program through her office.

Mr. Rawson, the Registrar, is very helpful in assisting the students with their curricular problems. His counseling service provides the helpful guidance necessary to enable the students to make the best of their school opportunities.

The popular student body president was Leon "Blackie" Clark, who kept his officers active and the social world bright. Remember that after-football game dance? It proved to be the money-making highlight of the season as well as a get-acquainted rally for Keppelites and their guests of the rival team.

The cabinet sponsored the Backwards Barn Dance, the "Jungle Jive Hop," and that very successful cleanup campaign.

Arnold, Vice-President; Bradshaw, President; Alberts, Treasurer; Knight, Secretary; Miss Watson, Adviser.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

The leaders of the Girls' League have executed a successful program this year. Deciding their first duty was to their country, the officers initiated a knitting campaign for the Red Cross. A call was made for used yarn. The girls knitted this material into dozens of squares to be utilized in making hospital robes for soldiers.

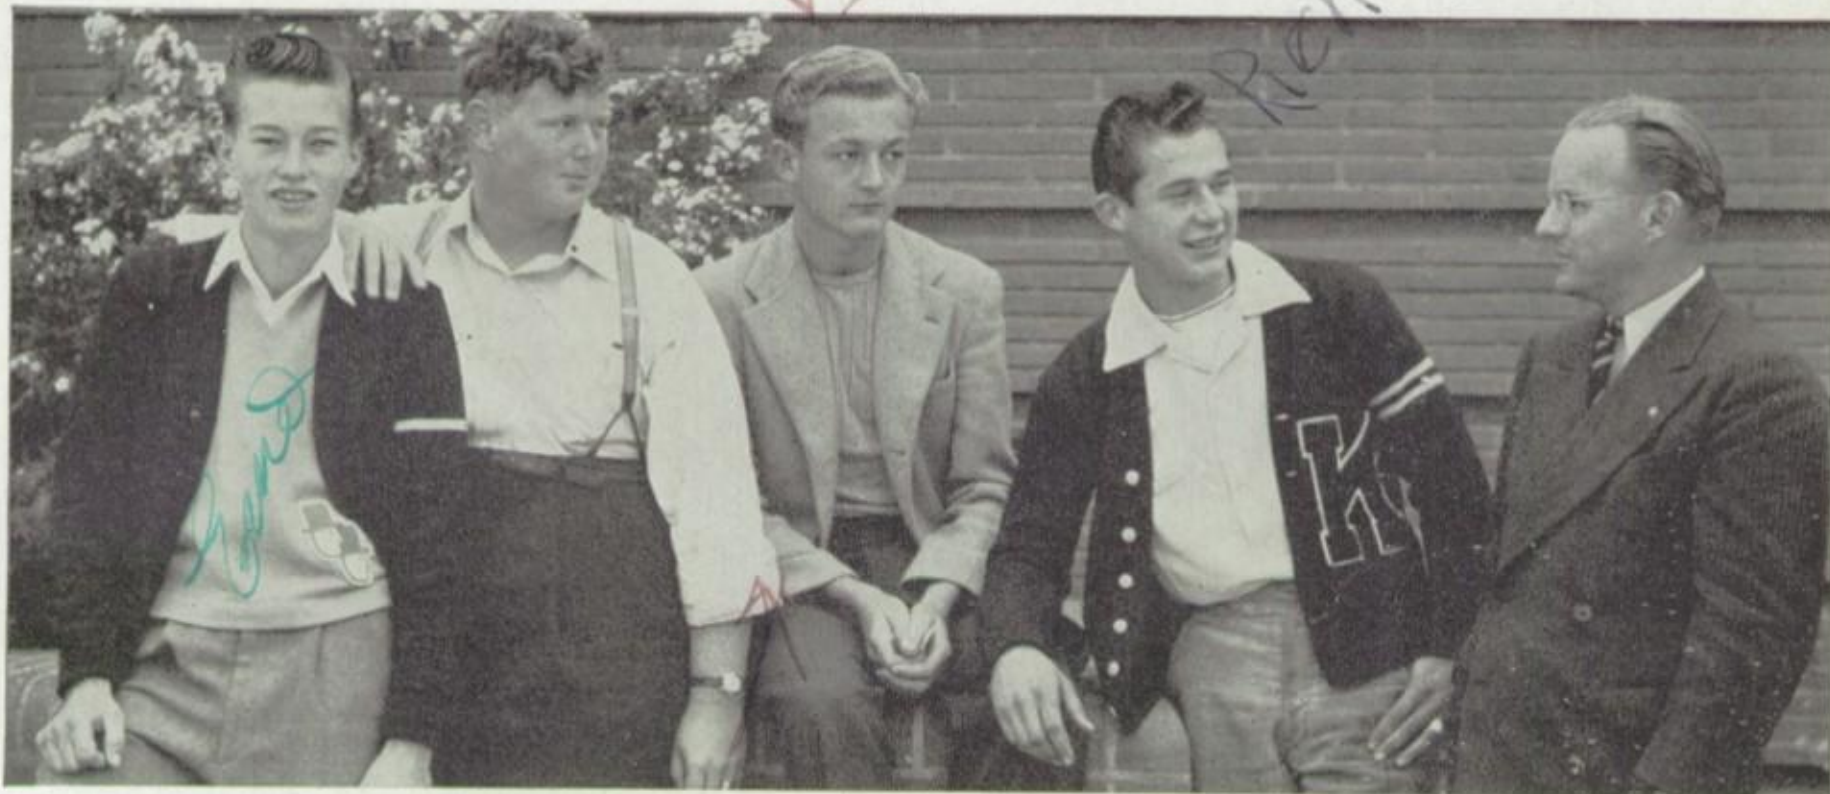

A semester of activity was brought to a conclusion by the sponsorship of a P.T.A. benefit program, May 28. The program featured a one-act play, "The Bathroom Door," directed by Mr. Luneburg. League members solicited clothing bundles in exchange for tickets.

The League is to be congratulated for its many successful ventures in the interests of school and community service.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

The Legislative Council has ably assisted the Cabinet this year in directing a great many school activities.

In an effort to promote better fellowship and citizenship at Mark Keppel, the Council sponsored Courtesy Week, which we remember as a time when everybody was getting acquainted and making new friends.

The highly successful conservation program in the interest of national defense was organized by the group. The efforts of this campaign were linked with those of national organizations for the purpose of saving paper, metals, rubber, and other materials useful in the nation's war effort.

Noteworthy achievements of the Council were the citations drawn up to honor the boys of Keppel who have entered the armed services of their country.

Officers for the first semester were Elizabeth Broggi, speaker; Jack Keith, vice-speaker; Yvonne Deford, secretary-treasurer. Second semester officers were Jack Keith, speaker; Royce Foster, vice-speaker; Betty Bowen, secretary-treasurer; and Wilbur Longanecker, parliamentarian.

ART

The hum of a potter's wheel and the clicking of a loom are the first sounds that greet your ears when you enter the Art Department.

This year the students of the department completed a number of projects for defense organizations. The charts and drawings for the Red Cross and the arm bands for the air-raid wardens were the two principal services. Another contribution was the checker boards which were processed for the boys in the armed forces.

Among other activities, the art classes have made posters to advertise school events, constructed stage settings for the plays, and designed insignias for the senior sweaters and the junior class rings.

The boys have fabricated parts for one hundred and twenty stretchers for the Alhambra Red Cross, and they have constructed fifty complete units for the San Gabriel and Garvey Red Cross chapters.

In addition, a program is in full swing to make one hundred model airplanes for the army and the navy.

MUSIC

How would you like to learn to play the piano or some other musical instrument? Or perhaps you would rather learn to sing? Whatever your choice, the Music Department is prepared to assist you.

A student may learn to play almost any type of musical instrument from a bass violin to a flute; and, for those interested in vocal training, there are the Junior and Senior Girls' Glee clubs, the Junior and Senior Boys' Glee clubs, and the A Cappella choir.

The musical highlight of the year was the gay operetta, "An Old Spanish Custom," a spectacular presentation of musical talent, directed by Mrs. Beebe, the department Head.

Everyone enjoys dramatic interpretations of life, whether they be presented in tense drama similar to "Death Takes a Holiday," or in lighter plays like "Swing Fever."

This year the Drama Department, under the able direction of Mr. Luneberg, has written a brilliant record with an impressive senior play, a beautiful Christmas pageant, and numerous playlets to brighten assemblies all year.

The student body never failed to show its keen appreciation of these productions, and we hope that the Drama Department will continue its record of spectacular successes.

HOME ECONOMICS

A Stitch in Time. Looky — Cookies!

The two major subjects taught in the Home Economics Department are sewing and cooking.

In the cooking classes, the girls study not only how to prepare meals but also learn how to select foods rich in vitamin and mineral content.

Fitting and sewing clothes are among the major activities of the sewing classes. Efficiency and skill were uniquely demonstrated this year in the innumerable modish costumes which the girls made for their revue, "We Step Out."

The revue was written and produced by the department under the direction of Miss Ostlund.

The basic objective of the Social Science Department is to foster good citizenship. The department hopes to attain this objective by a thorough study of our past history and current problems. Through this approach, the student becomes more cognizant of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. Motion pictures and phonograph recordings are used widely to explain historical incidents more effectively to the students.

The department sponsors three student organizations: the Social Science Club, under the direction of Mr. Kruger, has engaged in many activities, including the management of school elections; The Ushers' Club, sponsored by Mr. Coupe, takes care of the ushering "chores" for assemblies and other functions. Mrs. Moses is the sponsor of the Alumni Club.

BUSINESS

EDUCATION

Due to the increased demand for business-trained youth, special after-school classes were offered this year to all seniors having a year or more of typing. Special classes in mimeographing, duplicating, and review typing were planned to give to those not majoring in business education a semi-skill to offer industry.

Some of the regular subjects taught in the department, which have proved their value to students who wish to become skilled, are typing, shorthand, book-keeping, and banking.

MATH AND SCIENCE

The Science Department is taking an active part in national defense. Chemistry students are making the poison gas used for study in air-raid warden gas defense classes. Also, several first-aid classes are being conducted before and after school by the science teachers. In order to prepare to enter the "service," many students have enrolled in the mathematics classes.

The Science Club is a very active organization sponsored by the Science Department.

The classes in horticulture are conducting many interesting studies in the propagation and growth of plants, flowers, and shrubs.

Mrs. Cassle

No one realizes how popular our library really is until he learns that over 200 students use it every day, and that more than 1600 library cards have been issued.

Although the library started from scratch, its number of books has increased until there are now 2800 volumes in service.

There is no place like the Health Department when you have a strange ache or when you suffer scratches and bruises.

Besides the usual services, a dental clinic has been added, which provides an opportunity for many students to obtain dental attention.

Literary Lessons.

The Literary Society is one of the most active organizations sponsored by the English Department. At the Carnival the society had an exhibit of living wax works, which was judged by many to be the most artistic display in the show. Stories and poems written by several members of the group have been selected for an anthology which is to be issued soon.

ENGLISH

Michael McElrath, a freshman, recently won first prize in the statewide Robert Browning Poetry Contest sponsored by Redlands University. His narrative poem, "A Tale of The Andes," won him first honors in the Junior High School Division.

The Quill and Scroll, honorary writing club, the Teocalli, and The Aztec are other activities sponsored by the English Department.

Everyone had been looking forward to the dance which the A-12's and the B-12's had been planning. After a great deal of preparation, the students had to cancel the activity when the sad news of the blackout regulations came.

It was a great day when the sweaters, commonly called senior "sacks", arrived. The school swarmed with chocolate brown sweaters sporting the personalized monograms.

The senior dance, given after the class luncheon, was a great success. Bill Hayden and Bruce Paepke provided music with their phonograph recordings.

Those chosen to direct the class were Roy Edwards, president; Russell Rasmusson, vice-president; Pauline Reese, secretary; Betty Yancey, treasurer; and Douglas Taylor, business manager. They were capably assisted by Mr. Kreinbring, class adviser.

A grid of 24 black and white student portraits arranged in 4 rows and 6 columns. The students are dressed in formal attire typical of the mid-20th century, including suits, sweaters, and collared shirts. The portraits are set against a plain, light-colored background. The students exhibit a variety of hairstyles and expressions, with many smiling at the camera. The overall composition is a classic yearbook page layout.

MR. WOOD

Mr. Wood, the genial Head of the Social Science Department, is retiring after 20 years of service in the Alhambra City School District.

To those who have been in his classes, memorable indeed are his tales of India, the land of wonder. He spent the years from 1910-1919 instructing Indian students in a Christian college in Lucknow and editing the "Indian Witness."

Hard-working, young in spirit, and always pleasant, Mr. Wood is well liked by all his students and associates. He has their fondest wishes for his continued success and happiness.

Mr. Kruger will be the acting Head of the department next year.

Elizabeth Broggi, Mr. Kruger, Mr. Wood.

Love & Kisses

Bill Brown

The winter class of 1942 decided on a frolicsome play, and forthwith selected "Swing Fever," a gay lighthearted comedy.

Leon Clark, versatile senior, portrayed the part of Alex, a young man with dancing ideas; Grace Sutherland played Penny Palmer, glamorous Hollywood star, who starts Alex on his way to fame.

Leads in the cast were Leon Clark, Bette Bancroft, Grace Sutherland, and Betty Jackson.

Miss Edlen was the faculty adviser. She was ably assisted by Peter Bailey student director.

On a momentous day in December the Kelly green senior sweaters first made their appearance on the campus. Proud owners of these "sacks" strutted their colors before admiring throngs.

With graduation slated for an early day in June, members of the class are thinking seriously of going on to college or looking for a job immediately. In order to obtain information about various vocations and the different colleges, speakers from industrial plants and counselors from neighboring colleges have been invited to speak to several class assemblies.

Senior officers were Eleanor Murphy, president; Clara Freeberg, vice-president; Marcella Rock, secretary; Dick Calhoun, treasurer; Don Laughton, business manager. On the Legislative Council are Willie Longa-necker and Dick Burress. The able adviser is Mr. Gray.

ACHIEVEMENT

Michael McElrath, Keppel freshman, won first honors in the Junior High School Division of the Browning Poetry Contest sponsored by Redlands University.

Excerpts from his poem, "A Tale of the Andes", are printed in the creative writing section of this book.

The gold cup, awarded by the Foothill League, was won by Louis Becnel, Cee track man. He scored nine and one-half points out of a possible eleven and one-fourth points in the Foothill League Finals.

Becnel has been one of the team's most valuable men this season.

DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY

Shadows! Whispering music and indistinguishable figures moving in hushed expectancy. Out of the night comes the strange procession of characters who are to know, within a few hours, the secret of Eternity.

The main action of the plot moves around His Majesty Death, disguised as Prince Sirki, the uninvited guest of Duke Lambert.

Although the host and various members of his household shrink in abject terror, his fair and lovely daughter, Grazia, is strangely drawn to the prince. Only she understands the full significance of His Majesty. To her the prince is the personification of all things Infinite. The mystic elements that bind the two are the natural forces that bridge mortality and eternity. Grazia does not comprehend fully, but she has faith and infinite trust and knows that she will accompany Prince Sirki when he returns to the spirit world at the expiration of his mortal holiday.

Corrado, who loves Grazia, is lacking in vision and understanding, and he cannot understand her strange behavior. But the sensitive soul of Grazia responds to the pure chords of Death's music; only she knows his glory, his relationship to reality. She follows him trustingly.

The characters vanish from the stage; harsh lights return, but somewhere still a chord trembles, fragile but lingering, and everyone is touched by this Drama of Immortality.

MEDLEY

Remember the third period defense stamp sales? They were sponsored by the B-12 class. A great many stamps were sold, and everyone was given a chance to do his part in this particular war effort.

When the time came to choose sweaters, the class selected polo blue with a monogrammed M. K. pattern. Only 74 sweaters could be purchased due to the lack of yarn.

The officers of the class were Ruth Reece, president; Eddie Abajian, vice-president; Wanda Schultz, secretary; Barbara Ponto, treasurer; and Jack Thompson, business manager. Mr. Kreinbring was their adviser.

The officers of this semester's A-11 class were Jean Emery, president; Ernie Dixon, vice-president; Pat Knight, secretary; and Judy Mezirard, treasurer. This group of class leaders had the generous assistance of their adviser, Mrs. Cave.

A highlight among their activities of the year was a moving picture, "My Man Godfrey", starring Carol Lombard and William Powell. Hundreds of students packed the auditorium to see this delightful comedy. The picture was shown primarily to raise funds for the Junior Prom.

In order to choose a theme for the Prom, a contest was held in which members of the student body submitted ideas. Frances O'Sullivan's suggestion, The Circus, was selected as being the most original.

The Prom, the one formal event of the year, was held the evening of June 6, on the Front Porch. Many guests among the alumni and from the senior class enjoyed this gala event of the school year.

Although the B-11's are a small class, they have had a considerable share of school activities and responsibilities. Tire shortages and blackout regulations precluded any social activity; however, class members are looking forward to the Junior Prom with great eagerness.

The class may well boast of its athletic members. Stars among these were Loren Ellico, who has done outstanding work in basketball, and Les Peterman and James Casey, who have starred on the championship tennis team.

Class officers were Glenn Walling, president; James Casey, vice-president; Ray Sparks, secretary; and Yvonne deFord, treasurer. Legislative Council representatives were Peter Bercowitz and Leslie Smith. Mr. Major was the class adviser.

Row I—deFord, secretary; Sparks, treasurer; Casey, vice-president.

After petitions had been signed and the regular campaign speeches containing their usual promises had been made, the A-10's held their election on March 26. Donald Weick was chosen to lead the class in its various activities. Assisting him was Vice-President Bill Ward, while Verna Fruend kept the class records and handled the class funds. Ably representing the class on Legislative Council were Bob Butler and Betty Jo Bowen. Miss Pierce was their adviser for this semester.

Among the class activities for the school year was a skating party held on April 24 at the Moonlight Rollerway in Pasadena. It was reported that this affair was enjoyed by the Members and their invited guests.

After recovering from the first thrills of being sophomores, the B-10's drew up petitions for class officers and entered upon a whirlwind election campaign. Student leaders who came through the fire of the campaign to be elected were Laura Lee Winters, president; Rosetta Duff, vice-president; and Ruth Beyeler, secretary-treasurer.

Under the direction of Mrs. DeGaris, class adviser, the class tried out an innovation called "Hi Day." Students wore cards on which were printed their names. As the title suggests, boys and girls were encouraged to widen their range of acquaintances. The stunt proved to be a great deal of fun, and the class officers hope that it will become an annual custom.

In spite of still being a freshman group, the Summer Class of 1945 has been unusually active. It was they who sponsored the Friday basketball game rallies in the gym, and it was they who worked so hard to coax the rest of the school out to support the team.

On April 8 these "educated scrubs" held an assembly to which they invited the B-9 class members as their guests. Entertainment was furnished by members of the class and the drama department.

The leaders of this class are Dean Emery, president; Shirley Tasker, vice-president; Betty Becnel, secretary-treasurer. They were assisted by Mrs. Kasner, their adviser.

Varsity Debate

The four people who probably do more talking than anyone else in the school are the varsity debaters. Arguing for and against a permanent military training program, and federal aid to education this year, the team has entered tournaments sponsored by various Southern California high schools and colleges. The orators took part in several practice contests with Alhambra, their cross-town rivals. Debating is under the direction of Mr. Magee.

Boys' Quartet

One of the most active groups on the campus is the Boys' Quartet. Under the direction of Mrs. Beebe, the boys sang before many school and public audiences in the community.

W '46

Last February another group of wide-eyed Freshmen, better known as "scrubs", first set foot on the Aztec campus. After an early morning assembly, the newcomers set out to find their classrooms with the help of the official hostesses. Although a little bewildered at first by the maze of buildings and the intricate corridors, the freshmen soon made themselves at home.

After the class members had had some time to become acquainted with one another, Mr. Thompson, their adviser, called for an election of class officers. Frank Pfirman was elected president; Bob Gillette, vice-president; and Marilyn Sparks, secretary-treasurer.

Due to the early-semester blackout regulations, the class planned little social life besides the regular school activity and routine. However, plans are under way for a skating party early in June.

Varsity Football

The Aztec gridgers of '41 opened their second pigskin season with a practice game against Monrovia. The Wildcats edged out the Seixasmen 13-7.

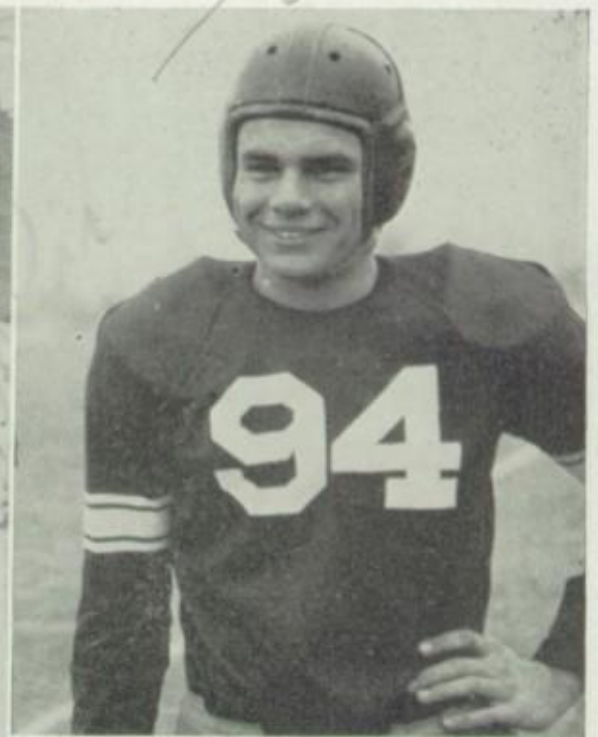

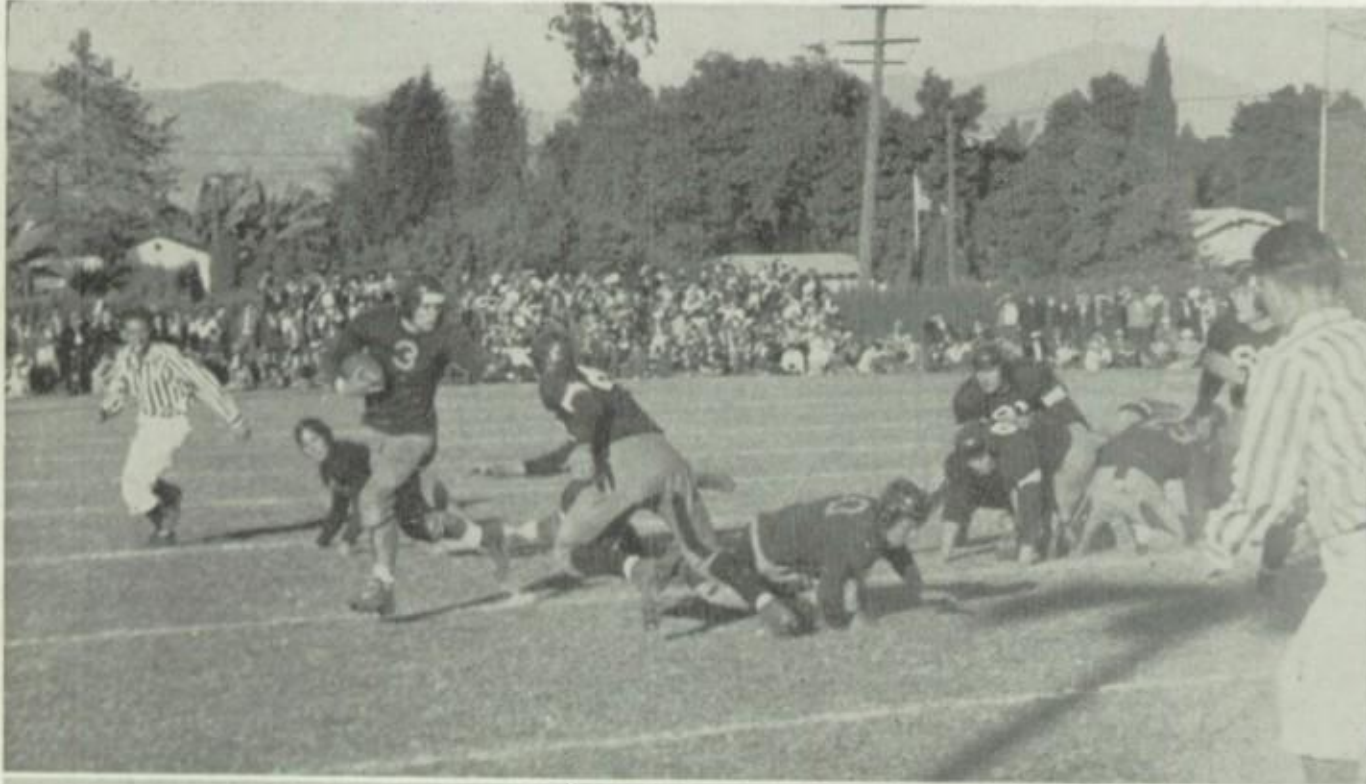

The year's second tilt brought together South Pasadena and Keppel. The Aztec dropped this practice game, 19-0. League play began in the Rose Bowl against Glendale Hoover, 53-0 winners the year before. The Aztec scored once, but the tally was nullified, and the Hoovermen won 6-0. Excellent defensive work by Irwin Frank and sparkling runs by Ed Becnel highlighted the game.

The Keppel grid warriors met the Dynamiters of Glendale High next. The speedier Glendale eleven overcame the Aztecs 26-6.

Ed McKenzie and the other Bruins of Woodrow Wilson downed the Keppelites 13-0 in the next league game. Ralph Jensen, first string end for Keppel, broke an ankle during this fracas and was out the rest of the season.

The heavy Normans of Beverly Hills, who were victorious 45-0 the year before, were defeated by the Aztecs, 19-0. The first Varsity grid victory in the history of Mark Keppel. Ed Becnel sparked the Aztecs all the way.

Still high in winning spirit, the Seixasmen upset the very powerful and heavily favored San Diego Hoover footballers, 19-13. A last minute pass from Becnel to Hooks, which was good for 85 yards, proved to be the winning margin. After a two-week bye period, the Aztecs met their city rivals, Alhambra. The Moors, led by Tommy Putman, chalked a 14-0 win.

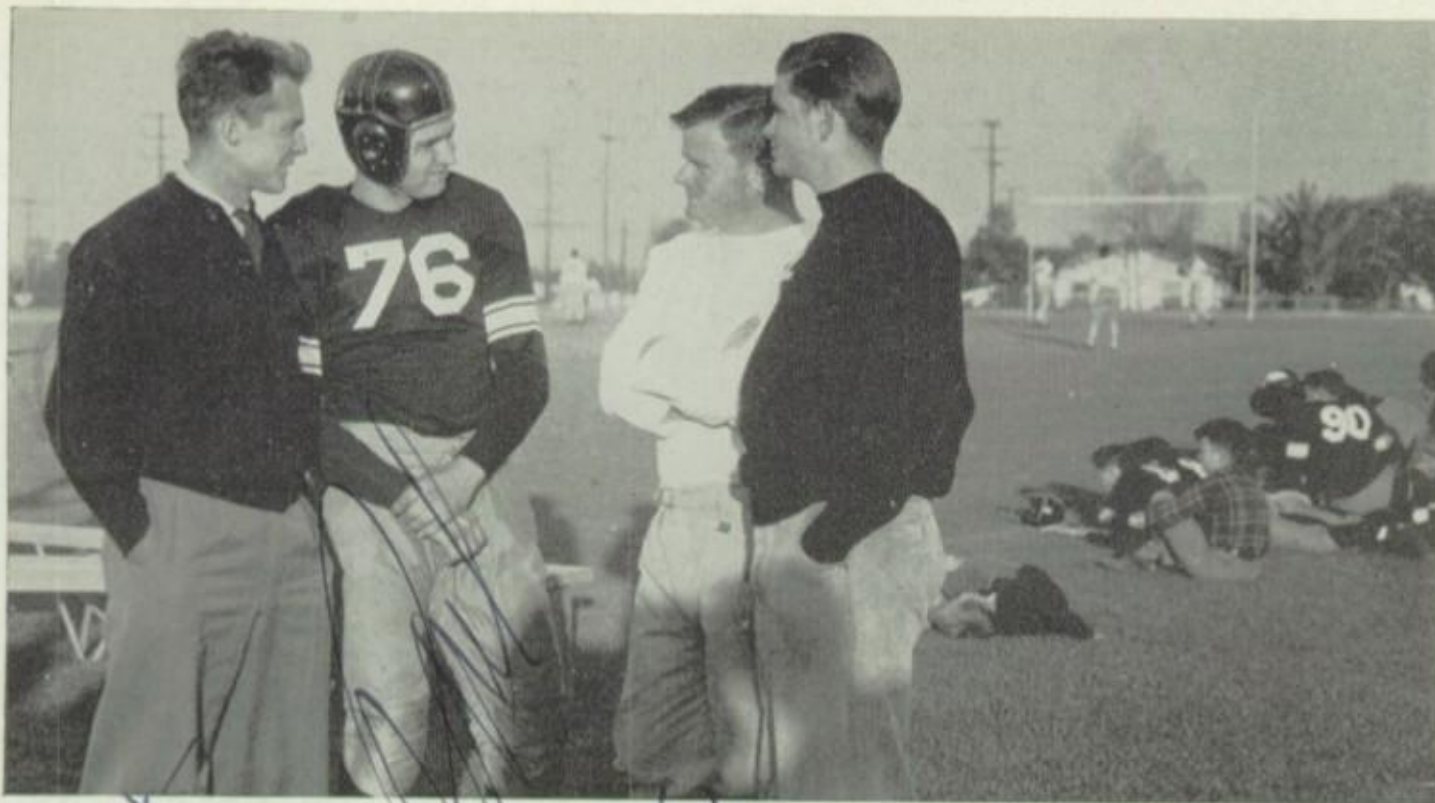

The Montezuma warriors finished the season at Whittier. The Cardinals downed the Aztecs 6-0, on a third quarter pass.

Captain Paul Young, ace signal caller and lineman for Mark Keppel, was awarded a coveted first-string berth on the C.I.F. all-star eleven for Southern California. Paul also received the most valuable player trophy for his outstanding grid-iron ability.

The 1941 season was a decided step of improvement over the preceding year. We all look forward to more victories next year.

The Aztec Bee footballers of 1941 started the grid season in fine style, and faltered only in two games. The Miller-men met Monrovia in the initial tiff of the season and battled that club to a scoreless tie. South Pasadena's Bees were the first victims of the Aztec lightweights. The margin of victory was 19-0. These first two encounters were practice tilts. League play opened against Glendale Hoover. The Keppelites were victorious by the score of 16-0. The Mark Keppel Bees next defeated the Dynamiters of Glendale 7-0. Beverly Hills was next to fall before the Aztec eleven. Coach Miller's boys came out on the long end of a 13-0 count. The Montezuma warriors met a tricky Woodrow Wilson squad next and went down to defeat 25-0. The Aztecs came right back and downed the Moorababes 6-2 in a night tilt. In the final game of the season, the Cardinals of Whittier upset the Millermen 7-0.

Shig Moromisato, captain and standout star of the year, was ably assisted by "Pooch" Thompson, Dick Krips, "Red" Roberts, and other gridiron artists.

You don't hear much about these Montezuma midgets. The Cees may be small, but they demonstrate plenty of fight and pep. Last season Coach Purcell's mighty mites turned in a fine performance on the football field.

Led by Captain Bill O'Sullivan, and other stars, including Louis Becnel, Bill Beidler, Archie Morgan, Don Joanis, the Aztec Cees finished the season with a record of one win, three losses, and a tie.

In the season's opener, the Hoovermen of Glendale tied the midgets 0-0. The Pursellmen dropped the second tiff to Glendale Broadway, 13-0. Our Cees came back to whip the Bruins of Woodrow Wilson 12-0; Alhambra defeated the Keppelites 7-0 in a thriller. In the final game, Whittier overcame the Montezuma warriors 14-6.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Aztec cagers, led by Captain Ken Gulley, won their practice games with Monrovia, El Monte, and the faculty. However, as the season progressed, the competition became more difficult, and the boys dropped their league games by chalking up "near-wins" on the scoreboard. Despite their record of losses, the Aztecs had a successful season, and next year promises interesting results. Coach Miller has done a fine job of tutoring, and he has brought the boys through a tough season with honors.

In the league opener with Glendale Hoover, the Aztecs were off form and were held to twelve points by an excellent Hoover defense. The Tornados were never in danger, as Bobby Olson, their midget center, led them to victory. In the second round, the Keppel cagers, led by Evans and Geyer, turned in a much better game against Hoover, but again were defeated by the league champs.

The second league game found the Aztec basketekers much improved, but they were edged out by Glendale High. The game was very close all the way until a last period scoring spree provided the winning margin for Glendale. Willy Longanecker turned in a fine, all-around game as he and Larry Hayes kept the Aztec attack going. In the return game with Glendale, the Keppel squad came near to winning their first league game, but they lost a heart-breaker by one point. Evans from his forward position, and Ellico with his long shots, paced our cagers to their best efforts.

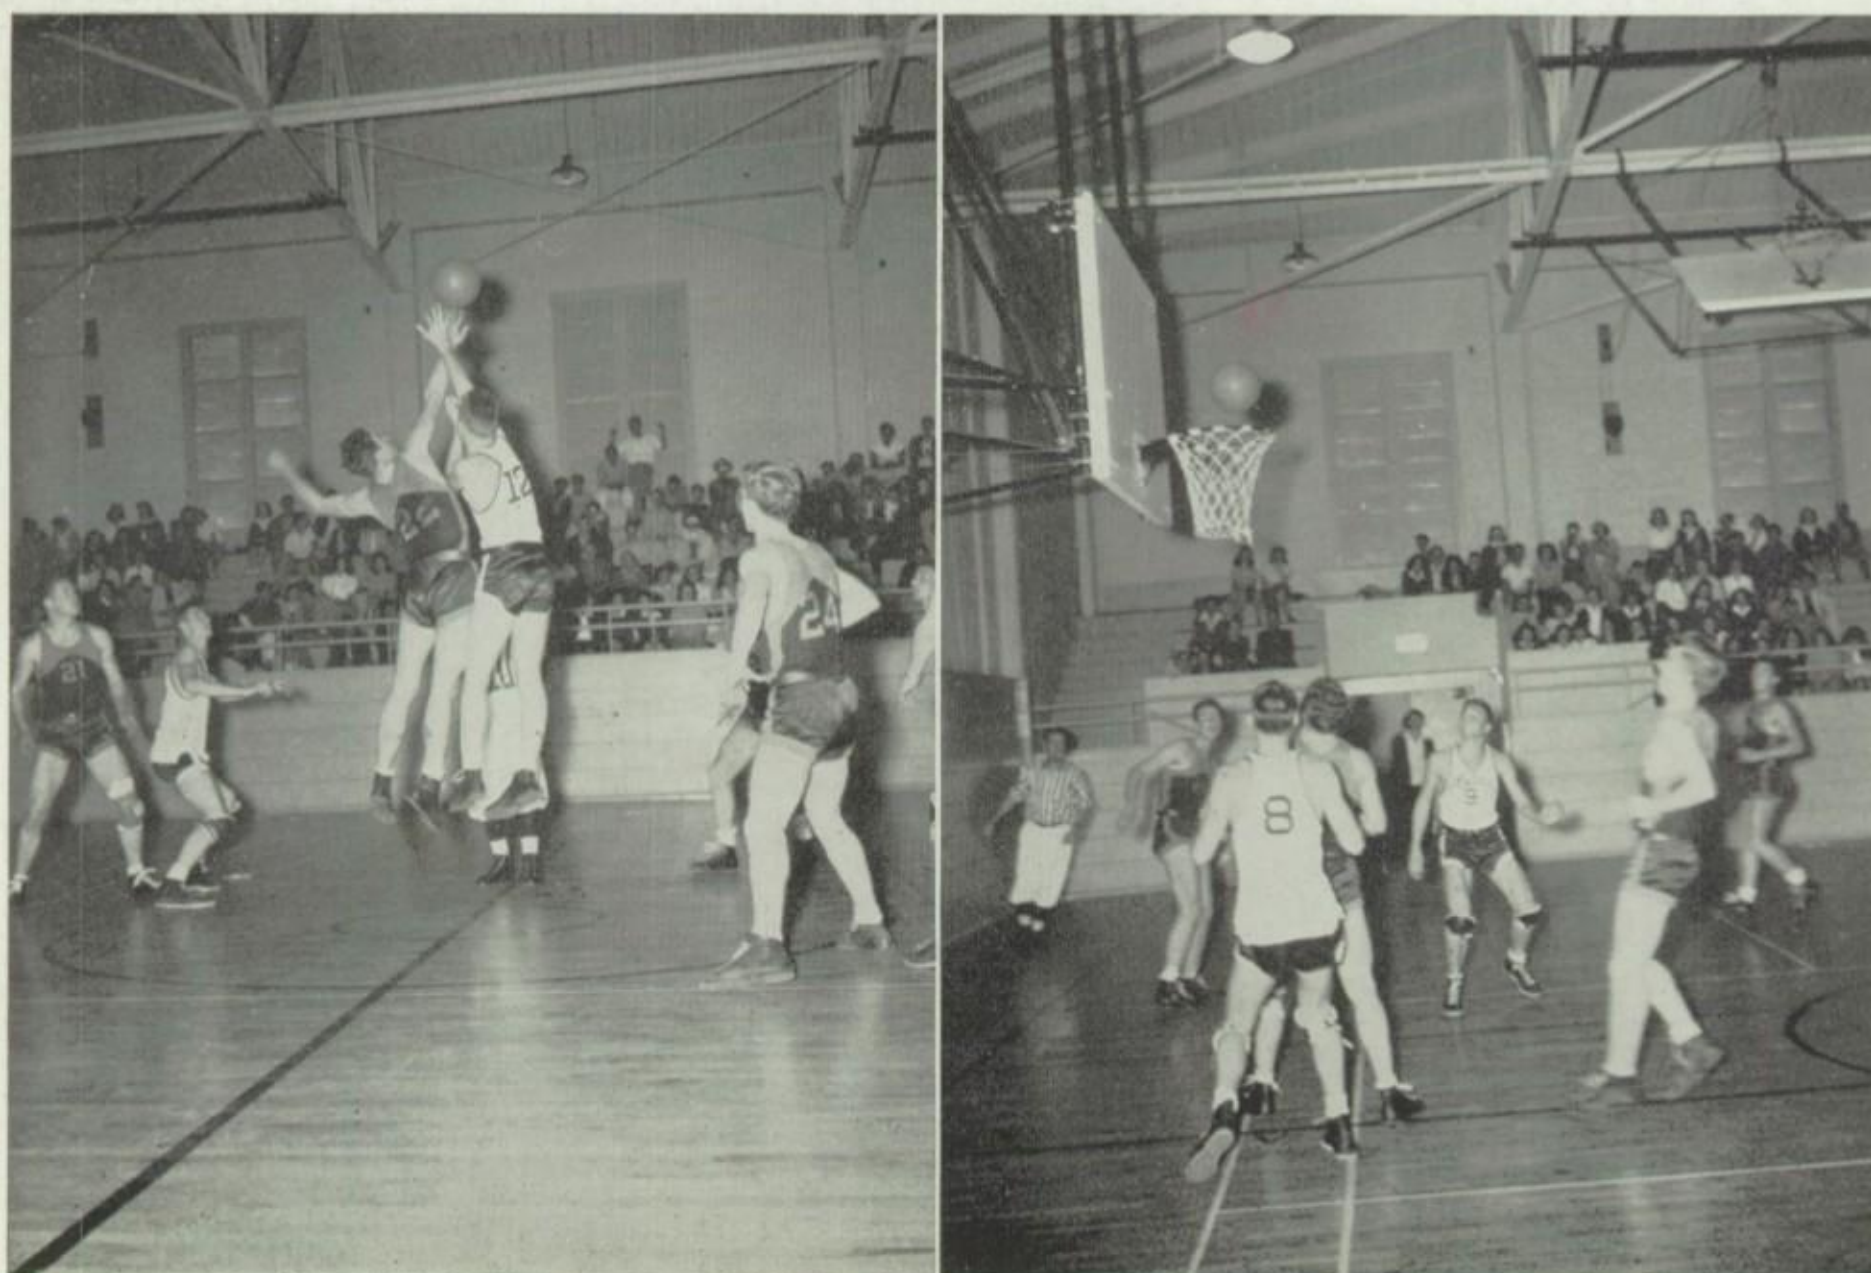

Against Whittier the Keppel team showed even more promise; it played on even terms with Whittier until defeated by a last minute spurt. In this game many of the fans were happy to see that Captain Gulley and Elson McCutcheon had again found their shooting sights. They made twelve and eleven points respectively. In the second game the Cards came back strongly to double the Aztec score.

Long Beach edged the Aztecs out in their first encounter. In the return game, the Aztecs whittled down the victory margin, but couldn't quite make it a win.

The annual grudge game with our cross-town cousins was quite a duel. The Keppel cagers had a much improved defense, but Davidson from Alhambra made things tough for the Aztecs. In the return game, which ended the league basketball season for Keppel, the Moors again out-scored Keppel, but McCutcheon, through fine guarding, boxed Davidson so as to prevent his usual high scoring.

Jack Evans, high scoring forward, was chosen to captain the team next year.

BEE BASKETBALL

Coach Austin, Bee basketball coach, was lucky this year to get most of last year's high scoring Cee midgets. This gave him a few experienced men from which to build his team.

The Bees started out very fast by winning four out of five practice games which gave valuable experience to the players.

The usual starting team was composed of Billy Acuna, the season's high point man, Anthony Ramirez, second in points scored, Bob McCutcheon, lanky center, Leroy Joanis and Gorden Haase. This quintet was bolstered by a number of excellent substitutes.

In league competition, the Keppel Bees had a record of four wins and six losses, making most of these wins at the end of the season. The climax of the season was the defeat of our crosstown rivals, Alhambra, in the first round.

The Bees demonstrated that they had plenty of class and they could always be counted on for a last minute spurt which often meant victory.

Row I—Hasse, Dean, Ramirez, McCutcheon, Acuna, Joanis, Cavin, Saum, Acuna, R.
Row II—Coach Austin, Kinsinger, Olson, Howey, Ashmun, Larnon, Edgar, Ostoich.

 Row I—Seixas, coach; Kuhn, Knight, Bassler, Moreno, Schwarz, Kmyama, Clark, Jackson, manager.
 Row II—Wadley, Lewis, Kiger, Boland, Hatch, Hugres, Ashe, Nava.

Keppel's two midget basketball teams, both coached by Mr. Seixas, had good records this year, with the Dees tying for the league championship with Whittier.

The Cees had a record of two wins and eight losses in league competition, but they lost two games by one point, and another by two points. High point man for the Cees was Truett McCullah, with Everett Gauthier and Don Joanis close behind. These boys and other members of the Cee team are destined to be of great help to the Bee and Varsity basketball teams in the coming seasons.

In tying for the league championship with a league record of three wins and one loss, the Dees displayed a fast and aggressive game, and anytime they played, plenty of excitement and thrills could be expected. Robert Knight, high point man, Mike Bassler, and Tony Moreno were mainly responsible for the Cees excellent record, and, considering their size, these mites have plenty of ability.

Varsity Baseball

The Varsity Baseball team might very truly be called the "hard luck" team. After Coach Pursell had spent two years developing a team which he thought should take the championship this year, things began to happen. Instead of ten returning lettermen, only eight came out because two of the boys had to work. Then a little later, in one of the practice games, Captain Paul Vaughn, valuable first sacker, broke his ankle sliding into third base. In the third league game, Kenny Willman, who had developed into a crack shortstop also found third base a jinx; he cracked a bone in his ankle while sliding for the sack.

Even after all this, the Aztec team played a good brand of ball and rarely ever lost a game by more than two runs. Much credit for this can be given to Bill Crayne, veteran hurler. Another pitcher, LeRoy Joanis, provided the high spot of the season by pitching a no-hit, no-run game against Whittier. A no-hitter is a rarity in baseball and takes a lot of courage and skill combined with faultless support from teammates. A lot of praise should be given this year's team for their excellent fight and team spirit even though they received all the bad breaks.

JAY VEE BASEBALL

Prospects for the Jay Vee season seemed very bright for this season as Coach Erspamer's young proteges displayed a great deal of talent for the short time they practiced. When the Annual went to press, the Jay Vee Baseball season was just starting and only one game had been played. The Axtec baseballers got off to a good start by winning 6-3 from Glendale High.

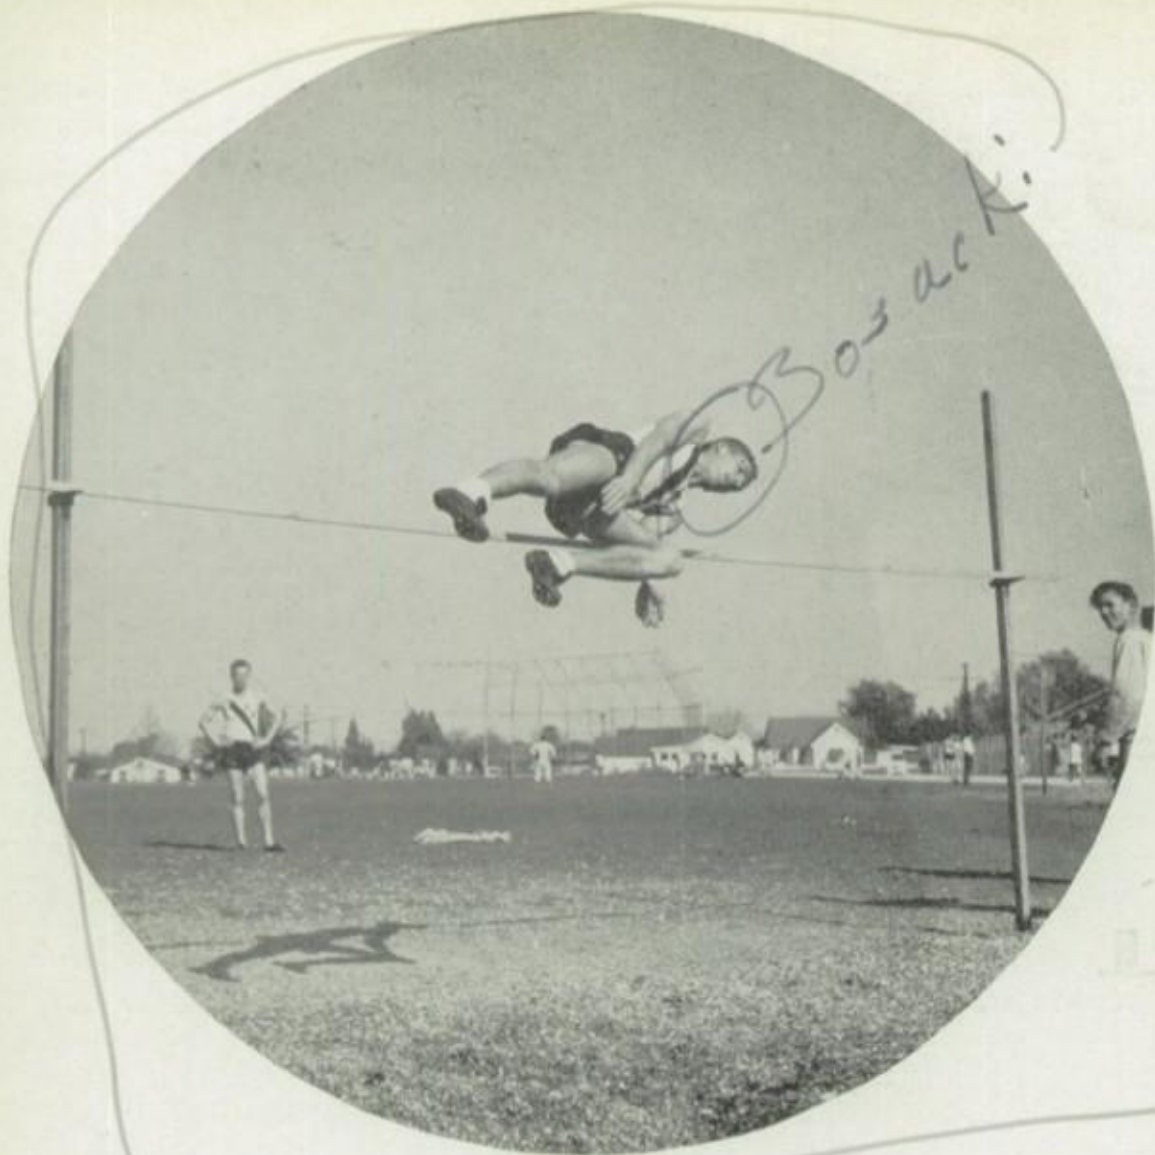

Although it was a little early to note any outstanding players, several boys' early performances made it look as though they might be destined to become stars. Leonard Lamont, left-handed first baseman; Bill Donnelly at shortstop, and Bob Heskett at catcher, looked particularly good in the first game. If these boys keep up their good work throughout the season, an excellent record can be expected.

VARSITY TRACK

Coach Miller's 1942 cindermen had a very successful year despite the fact that the squad was handicapped by a lack of material.

Everyone that was out was willing and trying all the time, but the group was too small to garner enough "seconds" and "thirds" during the meets to score a very successful season.

The small squad was victorious in only one contest all year. The Pomona Red Devils fell before the Montezuma warriors, 62-41, in a thrilling practice encounter.

The Aztec cindermen failed to win any league meets, but they came very close to overcoming their city rivals, the Moors.

As far as points go, Ed Becnel led the team with 55 tallies scored during the season. LeRoy Riehl was second and Don Brown third.

Ed received the coveted Iron-Man trophy for his outstanding performance. This award is a gift of the Alhambra Post-Advocate to the boy who scores the most points for the school during League competition. Becnel also placed well in the C.I.F. run-offs.

Don Brown, ace quarter-miler for the maroon and white, had a brilliant season. He has overcome many handicaps to become one of the leading lettermen.

LeRoy Riehl, a standout as a shot-putter, took many firsts during the year, and placed in the C.I.F. finals.

Coach Miller strongly stresses a large turnout next season so as to enable Mark Keppel to take the 1943 championship.

BEE TRACK

The Bee cindermen won only one league victory, and that over Alhambra.

Under the coaching of Mr. Seixas, the lightweights won four out of five practice meets, but failed to gain more than the one 57-38 league victory over Alhambra.

The Aztecs lost the last meet of the season to Whittier. The score was 48-47, a tough break in any language.

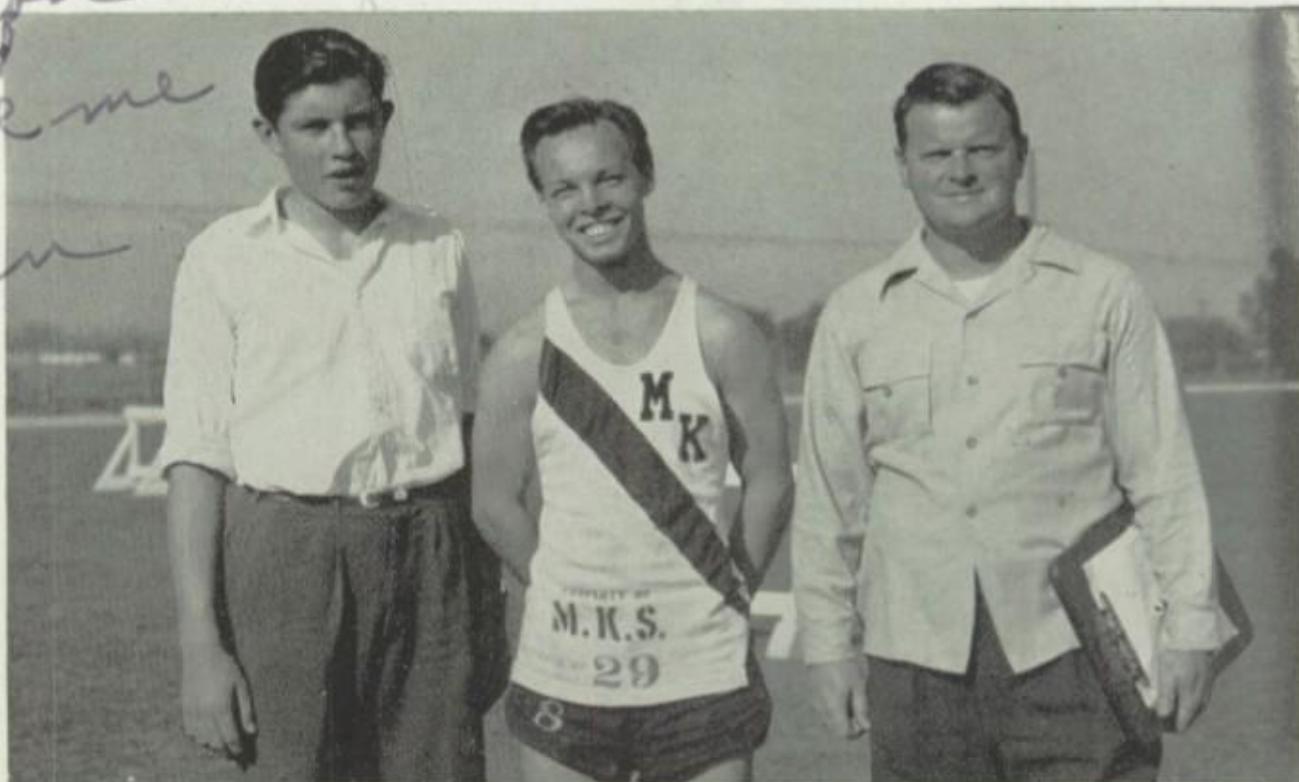

As in the case of the Varsity, lack of material proved to be a definite handicap to great success.

Jean Emery was the shining light of the 1942 squad with victories in the dashes. He also was an indispensable member of the relay team.

Tony Ramirez, who performed well all season, placed in the C.I.F. 660 yard run.

Three league victories against two defeats! That's the record of the Mark Keppel Cee track team of 1942.

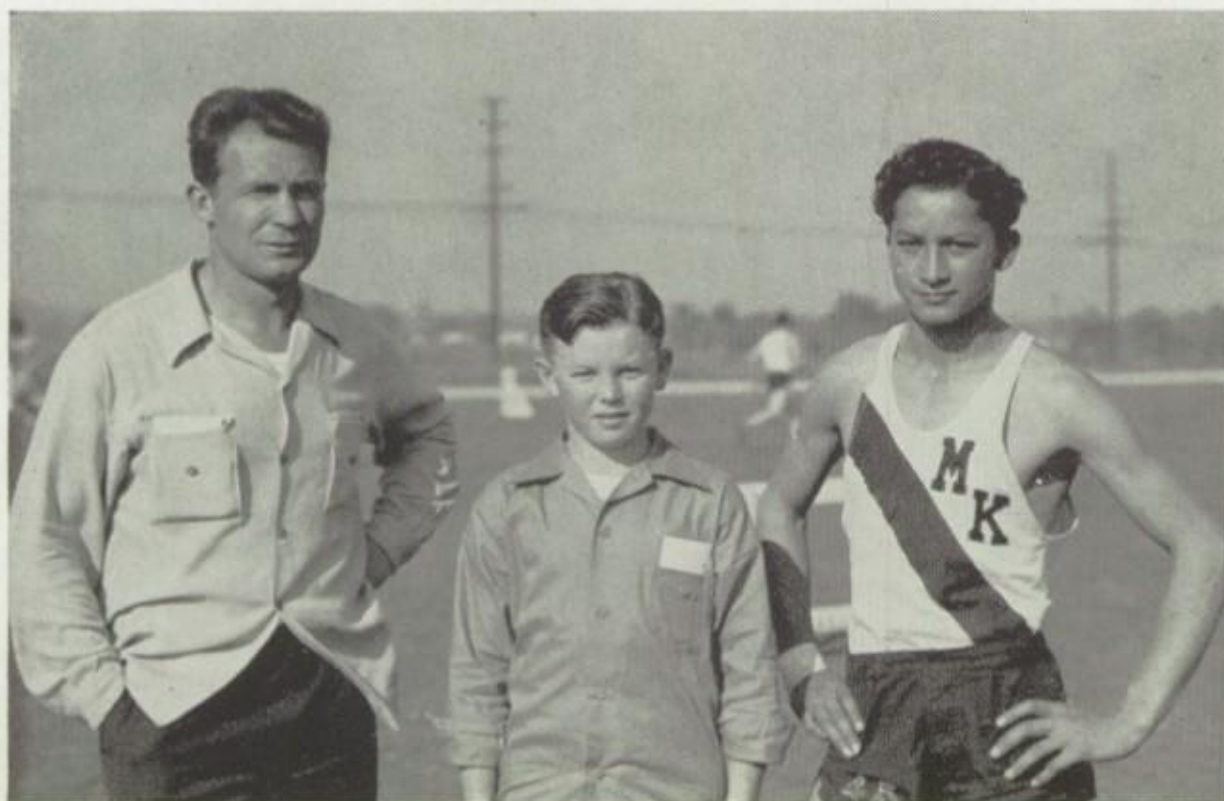

Coach Austin's mighty midgets also won 4 out of 5 practice encounters. One victory over Pomona was by the overwhelming score of 67-9.

Dropping only the first two meets to Hoover and Broadway—both Glendale institutions—the Aztec Cees went on to win the final three and secured firsts in the league finals.

Louis Becnel, little brother of Ed, won the ironman trophy for the most points made by a Cee in the league finals.

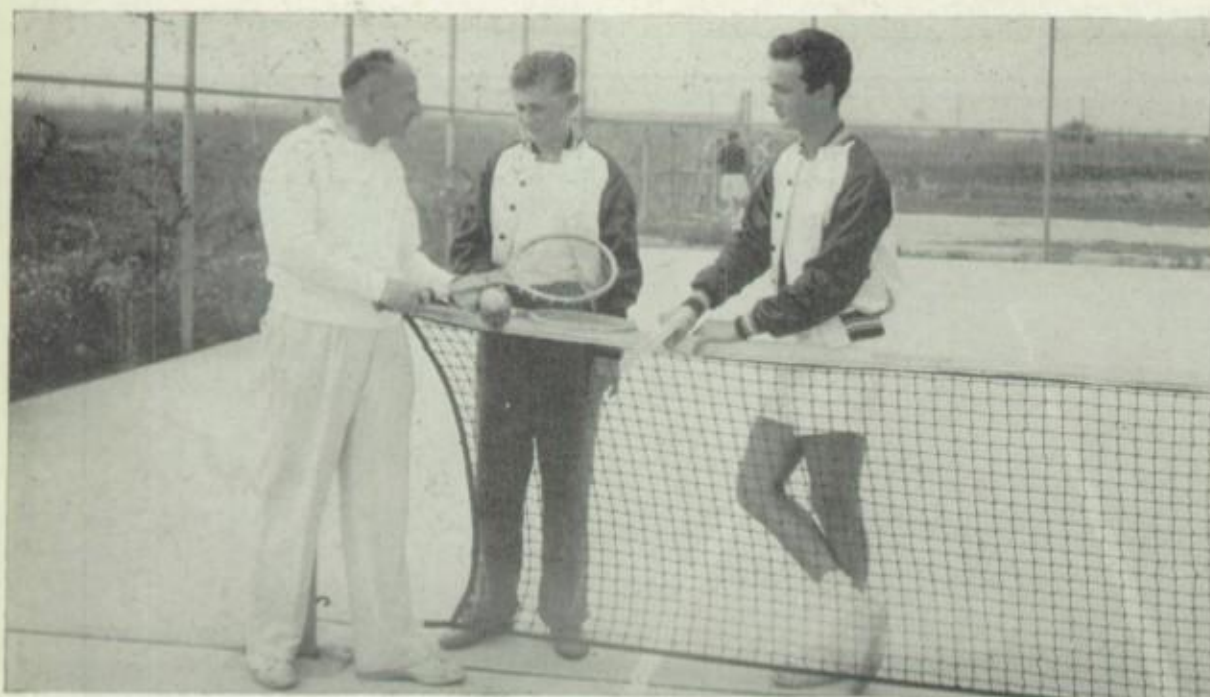

Truett McCullah, who starred throughout the season, equalled the C.I.F. record of 5.6 in the 50 yard dash.

LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Foothill League Champs! This is the accomplishment of the Mark Keppel Varsity Tennis Team who became the first varsity athletic team to win a league title in the short history of the school. Much of the credit can be given to "Pop" Horne, popular tennis coach, who worked hard to develop this fine group of racquetmen.

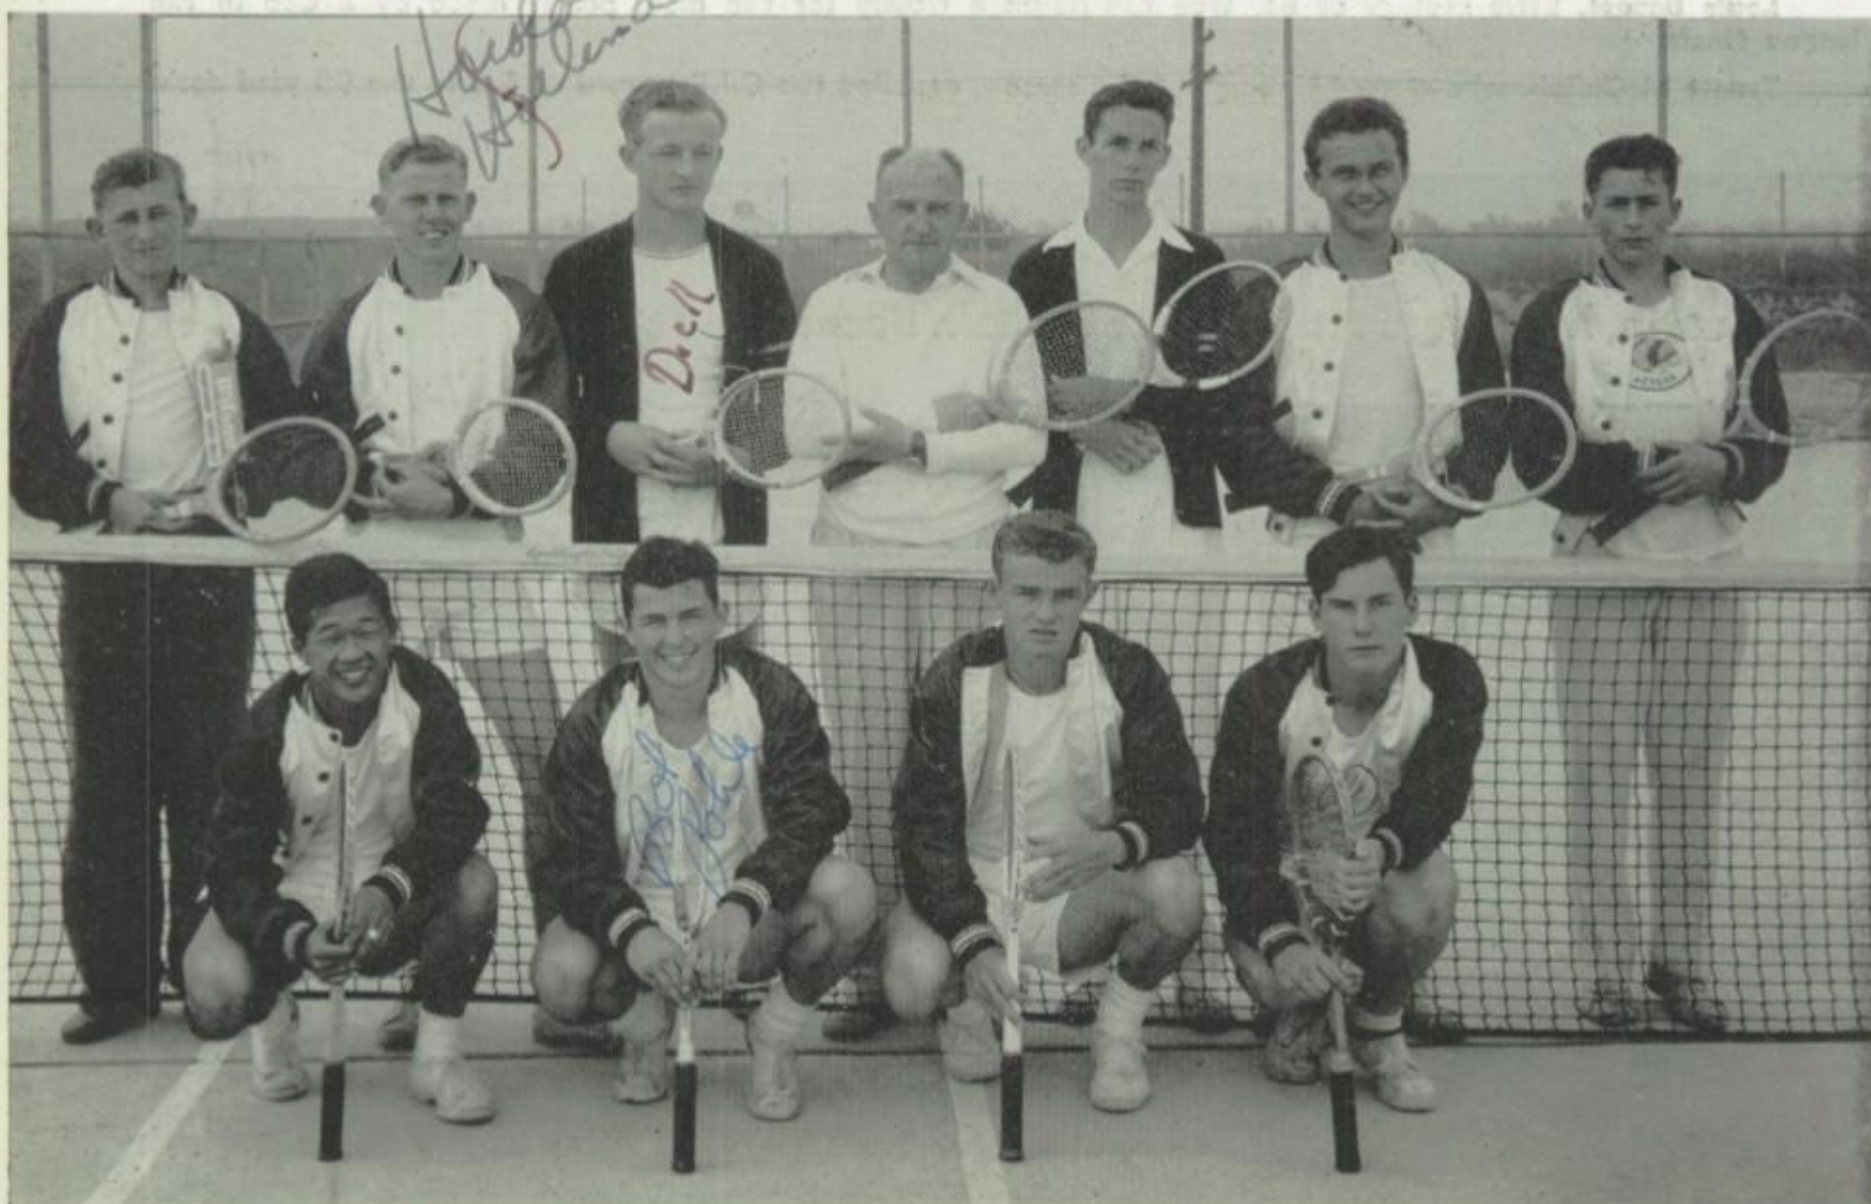

The squad had a perfect record in league play with ten wins and no losses. Every match, except three, was close and exciting with one or two players coming through when the chips were down. It is interesting to note that in six of the ten victories the match score was 5-4.

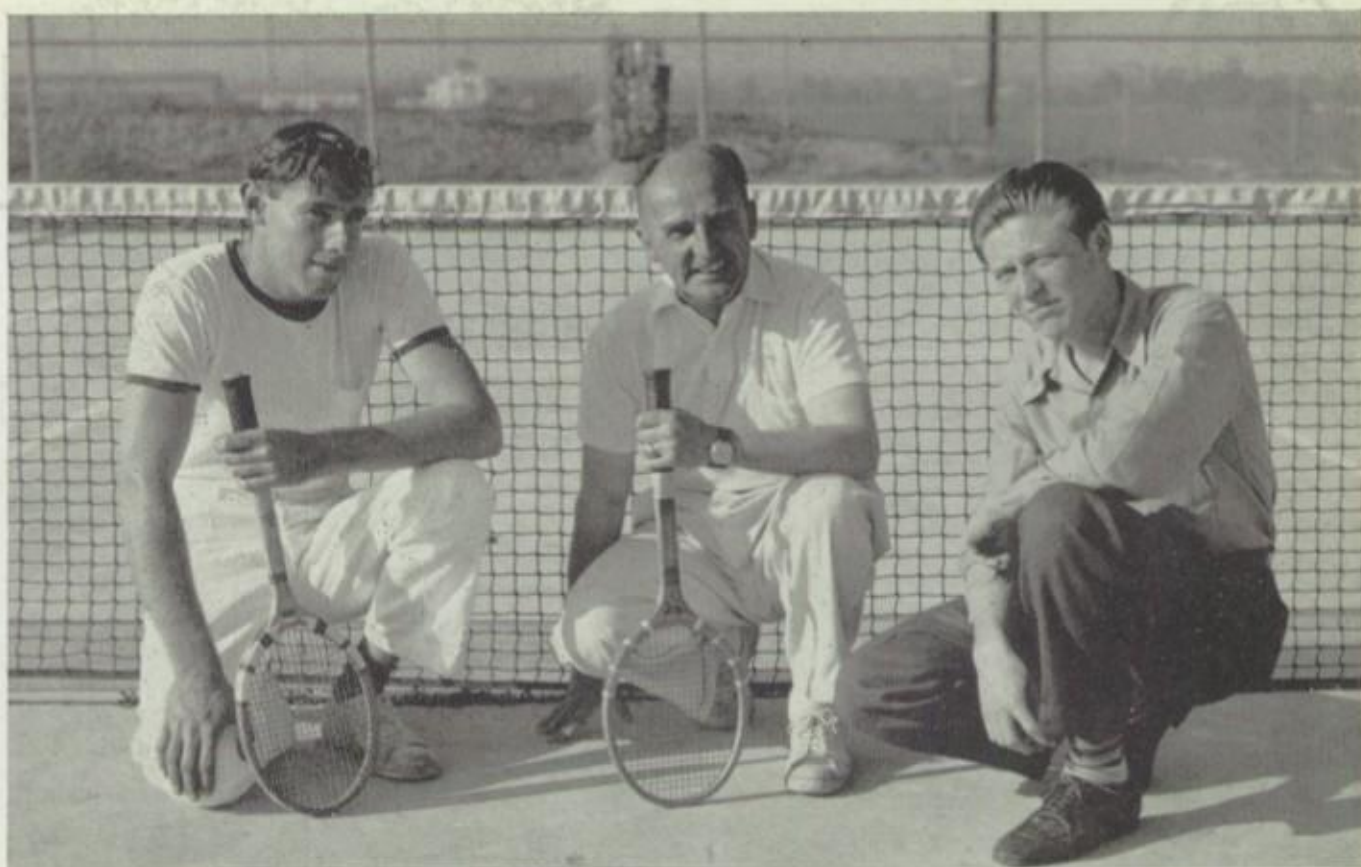

The stellar second doubles combination of Calhoun and Weick went through the season without the loss of one match. Jim Casey did outstanding work in his fifth singles. Several times he was the deciding factor in a match. Although Captain Holleman did not have an impressive record in the difficult first singles spot, his improvement during the season was very noticeable.

JAY VEE TENNIS

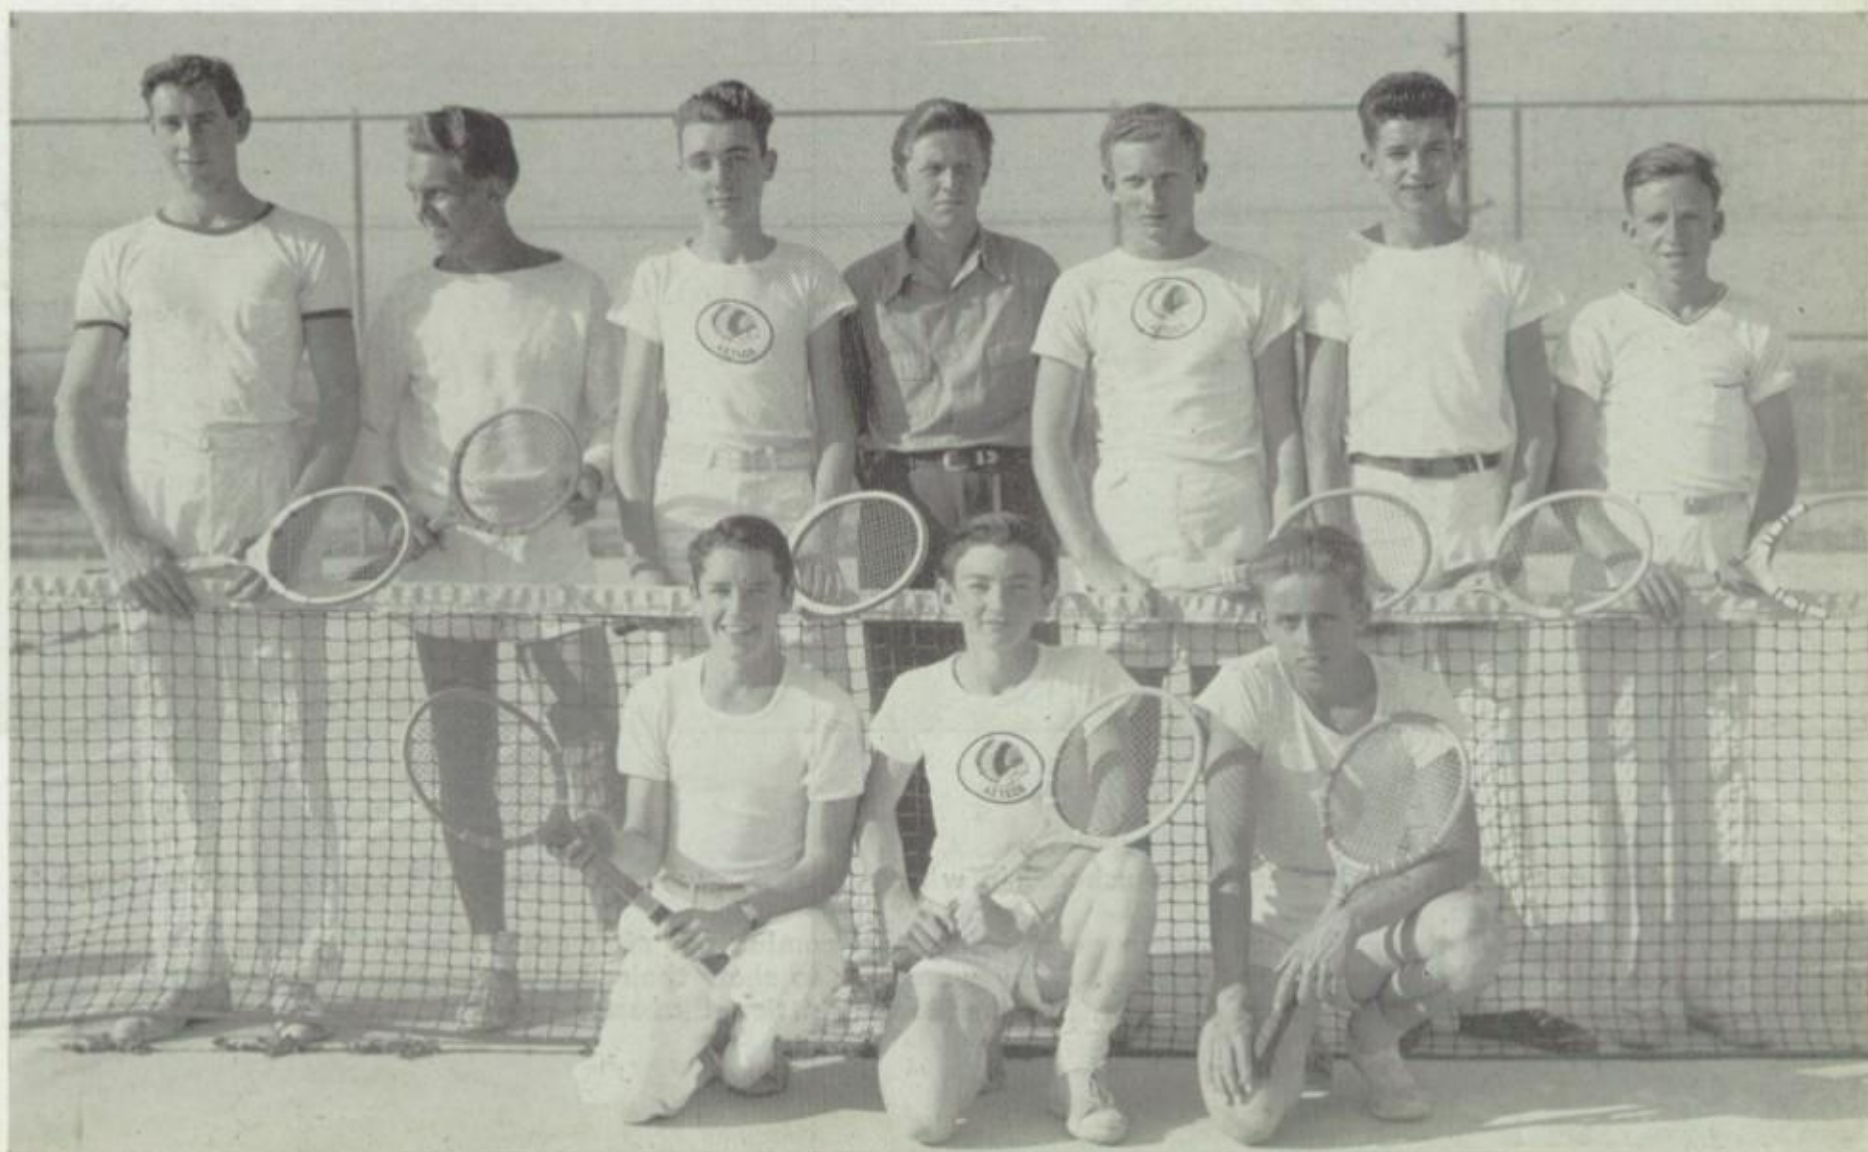

The Jay Vee Tennis team this year found itself minus its best players of last season. These boys have been graduated to the Varsity squad. However, Coach Horne, who is known for developing inexperienced novices into good players, worked very hard with this year's crop. Gene Thornhill, outstanding first singles, Ted Longley, and Captain Don Forbes were the mainstays of the team.

The squad went through a hard practice season without the loss of a match, and they looked as though they would take the league championship. Glendale High put a stop to these aspirations by winning 5-4 in the first league encounter. The team lineup was changed to make it as strong as possible, and there is great promise that the boys will continue to win.

Several of the Jay Vee's will be promoted to the Varsity squad next year. Coach Horne feels that after the success of this season, Mark Keppel should take the championship again when the rackets start swinging in 1943.

OUR DAILY

Last September the girls sports season was ushered in with enthusiasm when a successful treasure hunt was given to honor all the new members.

Throughout the year the girls have shown great interest in coming out after school for such sports as badminton, Archery, basketball, speedball, tennis, and hockey. They were able to show their skill in the November Playday in Glendale when they won several of the games played with Alhambra, Whittier, Burbank, and their Hoover hostesses.

DOZEN

The "battle of the sexes" was an amusing highlight in an active year for the G.A.A. This game was between the Varsity Club cagers and G.A.A. girls. After a hard fought battle, the boys were barely able to win a 16-13 victory over the girls.

Last spring the officers of the G.A.A. went to Long Beach Poly High School to represent Mark Keppel at the annual G. A. F. meeting.

Every Wednesday afternoon the Aztec office is alive with action. Students pound typewriters, others chew pencils, somebody questions, "What shall I do with this story?" However, in spite of all the apparent confusion, the Aztec reaches its many readers promptly on Friday.

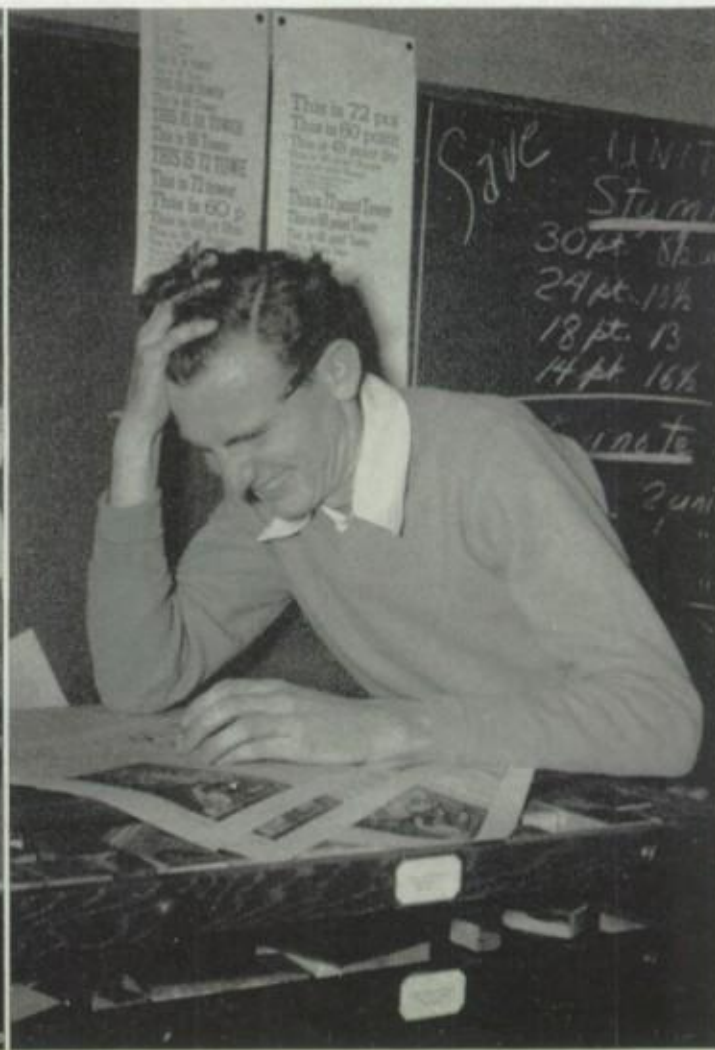

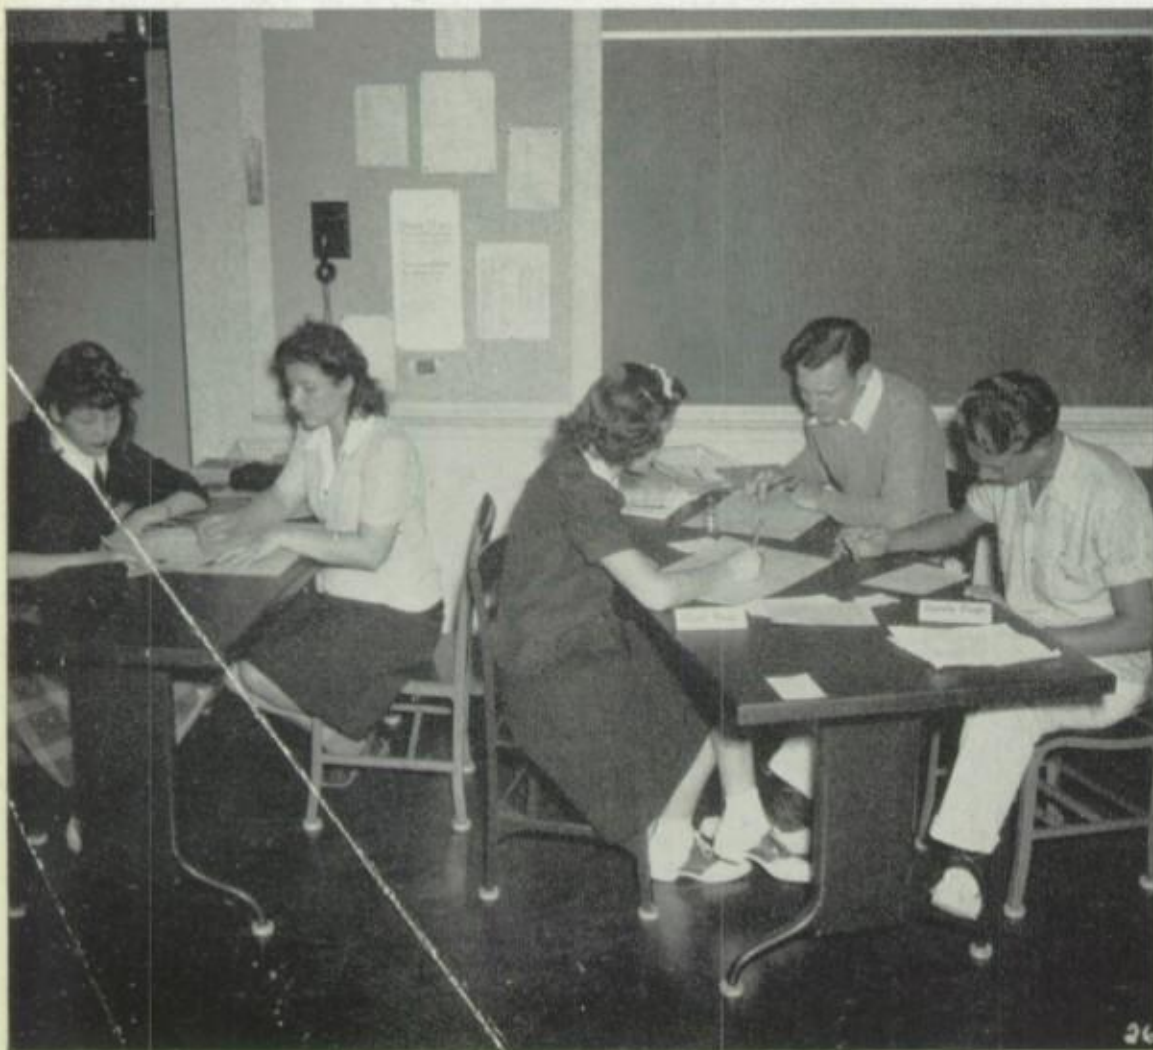

At the beginning of the semester, in an attempt to boost sales, the staff sponsored a third-period movie, given free to those who held a subscription card. Needless to say, the subscription list grew rapidly.

The Aztec is unique among school papers. Page editors are frequently rotated to provide the aspiring journalists a variety of experience; all the type-setting is done in our own print shop under the direction of Mr. Tisdell.

Last semester the editor-in-chief was Bill Hayden; the second semester, Clift Whiteman. Mr. Murphy is the faculty adviser.

The staff editors bring to a conclusion their efforts to publish the third edition of the Teocalli.

You of the student body have shown your loyal support and confidence in our efforts by a record purchase of yearbooks. We hope that in these trying times the Teocalli will bring you enjoyment and pleasant remembrances of an eventful year.

To our advisers, Messrs. Anderson, Cook, Bonar, and Cutlip, we extend sincere thanks and appreciation for their helpfulness in making our book a success.

We also wish to acknowledge the fine help and cooperation of the following: Mr. Frank Raushnel and Mr. and Mrs. Dubois of the Austin Studio, Mr. John F. If you attended the Keppel Carnival, you surely didn't miss the colorful "Gay Nineties Review".

Flora-Dora Girls danced, tin music blared, Jack Keith balleted, and the audience roared.

Jean Hibbard sang torch songs, Jeanne Brown wept through her "Bird in a Gilded Cage," and Patrick Jordan strutted as the wily Villain.

The Review succeeded admirably in interpreting many memorable moments of the Gay Nineties.

THE CURTAIN

MIRACLE OF THE ROSES

A lovely old tale, told and retold through the ages, again comes to life under the brilliant direction of Mr. Luneburg. The gentle little princess, dismayed by the starving condition of her people, was portrayed by Ester van Hoorebeke. Eugene Berg enacted the role of the heartless king.

The play was lavish with gorgeous medieval costumes and scenery, arranged in the quaint manner of early English pageantry.

The story itself conveyed a timely Christmas message to all who witnessed it.

Fast-moving action revolves around a plot wherein an eastern swindler attempts to dupe Don Jose into surrendering his mortgaged ancestral acres. A band of masked riders helps Jose regain his land; meanwhile, he falls in love with charming Billie, daughter of the mortgage holder.

Madcap maids, an Irish cook and her henpecked husband run riot through many hilarious scenes.

Tilden Dingmon played the dual role of Don Jose and the leader of the masked riders very convincingly. Bonnie Mullenau was a delightful Billie.

The musical highlight of the operetta was Helen Prandrea's thrilling solo, "Il Bacio".

A Carnival had come to town! With a roll of drums and a blare of trumpets, Keppel threw open its gates, and the eager public was admitted into a wonder-world of the past.

The old medicine show had reappeared after an absence of several decades; Napoleon and other memorable characters of the past were recreated for the wax-works museum; dozens of Lillian Russells and Diamond Jim Brady's paraded their finery at the lavish festival.

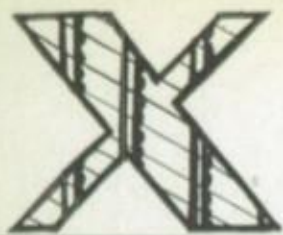

Raucous-voiced barkers lured the spectators into awesome, mysterious booths; sleek-haired dandies in spats winked slyly at coy maidens; come-on yowlers cried their wares amidst confusion; the bingo wheel spun merrily on. All this colorful activity bespoke gayety and the care-free abandon of a joyous good time.

Recognize these dashing beaus and gorgeous belles? Believe it or not, they are members of the student body and our own dignified faculty, having a gay and glorious time testing their skill at games of chance and begriming their faces with cotton-candy.

Perhaps you saw a beautifully costumed lady putting last-minute touches on Jenny Lind's gown. That was really Miss Zellhoefer, adviser for the Literary Society, arranging Mildred Carman's costume.

That frantic Irishman, who kept screaming, "Kill the faculty for a dime; see 'em suffer!" was Mr. Murphy hawking Quill and Scroll tickets for the shooting gallery.

CREATIVE WRITING

(The two stanzas printed below are from the prize winning poem submitted in the Browning Contest sponsored by Redlands University)

TALE OF THE ANDES

The lashing storm shriek breaks the night,
The blue-white moon is gone from sight.
Overpressed by the mountain's might
The clouds toss.
And high upon the ridge-cliff top
Where the dizzy feet a thousand drop
And even then do not stop,
Three men reel.
Blindly reel on the mountain side —
Living still where others died.
Across the sky the storm-gods ride
Over Andes peaks.
And the Andes storm-god mocks the sight
Of him who prays there in the night
To the Christian God to show him light
And lead him on.
For in Inca Gods burn a white-hot hate
That will never calm nor abate
For the aliens who would dominate
Their ancient realm.
So hard the clutching gale tears,
Cold mountain fangs the earth-god bares
To the Blackened skies; and the men he dares,
Yea, dares to live!

Their faces the wind-lash taunts.
It freezes, but never daunts
The steely soul.
The blood-red will that holds and haunts
Dead are the men behind their feet
Dead for lack of strength to meet
The Andes snow and biting sleet
From its heart of ice.
Dead are the men who behind them fell
Because they loved and loved too well
The warmth of danger, the spice of hell,
And paid the price.

Michael McElrath.

My dear little Mamma:

I'll continue even though I am leaving school. I'm hoping well be seeing each other at the skating rink and the beach anyway. Haven't we been having a wonderful time. Really Mamma you're almost like a little blonde. I've even seen you're always been so darn sweet and honest honey. I think you're just about everything in a job that I like. I'm just hoping M. see you around this summer. M. remain always as one of your best friends. Remember me.

OUR STORY

SONNET ON MILTON

What need had Milton of the outward eye?
Of forms and colors that are common seen
And are forever, yet have never been Without the shadowed mist of death close by?
And even on them, of them, to our eye
Which sees them all, yet naught that comes between

The close-packed earth and valient blade of green,
Or else beside the deed, the soul's frailty
Unknown, or even more than blue when all
The sky rejoices! Oh, how blind, how dark
Is sight that gives us only this, while he,
Unaided, held Magnificence in thrall,
And summoned Beauty; touched on Grandeur's
mark,

That through his blinded eyes we too might see.

Jacqueline Bassler.

WALK OF UNCERTAINTY

We walk in uncertainty, like the universe
In violent hates and pulsing affinities,
For life is never serene, like the cloudless night.
Rather it is like the aimless wind
Cool in the evening dusk, lifeless in the noonday heat, mad in the tropic storm.
And always the mind in times of distress and darkness,
Looks to the future for some light, some gleam,
some hope.
For the past closes about us like the darkness of a cavern to one who emerges blinded into the golden arrows of sunlight.
What is this thing? this intangible entity called future

That it holds us in chains of anxiety?
That it can make us liars, thieves, or saints?
It is nothing, nothing but a mirage of uncertainty.
Masaharu Inaba.

QUALITY OUR MOTTO

New Ave. Public Market
713 N. New Ave., Monterey Pk.

To the one who gave me a very good time while I was going with her.

Well Marna I sure hated to break up with you, but we waaint getting along very well so you know the rest.

I had a lots of fun with you and think your folks are the nicest persons on earth.

You have some of the nicest friends that I know of, some.

Marna you are beautiful, and you know.
You have a round face (which lots of people would look at.)
your eyes are blue, (who but you?)
your feet - so large your shape - well we will leave that out (don't it)
Johnny Brady.

Dear Marna,
Here's to the feet in the student store and the reason I was pleased with it was so cute.

Dear Marna - you're a sweet kid and I've had a swell time watching you getting in dust with our very dear beloved Biology and French classes. What do you do the other four periods?
